

How can I test whether my PC workplace is suitable for web conferences?

Adobe offers a test site (in German), which can be used to check whether the installed flash player supports the service and that it is not hindered by firewall rules.

Furthermore, the Adobe Connect application can be installed and tested and audio can be configured.